

Believing in change, believing in community, believing...

The UBC School of Social Work recognizes May 5th as one of several days throughout the year to remember missing and murdered Indigenous women and girls so they will not be forgotten and to strengthen the call for concrete actions to end violence against Indigenous women and girls.

Special acknowledgement of Métis artist Jamie Black for her REDress Project which inspired us (<https://humanrights.ca/story/five-women-all-canadians-should-know>) and of those who shared their stories in the National Inquiry (<https://www.mmiwg-ffada.ca>)

